EEsof EDA Licensing Software

EEsof EDA Licensing Software

You can install the license server files separately and independently from any product installation. For example, if your EEsof products are installed on a Windows machine, but your license server is on a Linux machine, you only have to download and install the Linux version of EEsof EDA Licensing Software, not the complete EEsof product installation.

Please refer to the License Setup chapter of your EEsof EDA product's Installation Guide for more information about setting up a license server.
